

Applebee's Says Thank You to Servicemembers with Free Meals on Veterans Day

Applebee's Expands Thank You Movement to Improve the Everyday Lives of Veteran and Active Duty Military in Need

KANSAS CITY, Mo. -- Expanding upon its six-year Veterans Day tradition of providing free meals to current and former servicemembers, this year Applebee's Neighborhood Grill & Bar® will look to provide everyday household items like washers and dryers and medical equipment to veterans or active duty military and their families in need.

Applebee's Thank You Movement is honored to partner with the community this year by asking friends, families and neighbors to submit stories at ThankYouMovement.com on behalf of veterans or active duty military and their families who need items that would help improve the lives of those who serve our country.

"We are thankful for the men and women who have served, and currently serve, to protect this great nation," said Applebee's President Steve Layt. "We're excited to show our gratitude again this year by serving free meals to our military heroes on Veterans Day, and by partnering with our neighborhoods to help servicemembers in ways that will improve their everyday lives."

Applebee's Thank You Movement

Since creating the Thank You Movement in 2011 to collect messages of appreciation for each of the 24 million current and former members of our Armed Forces, Applebee's has received more than 6.7 million personal "Thank You" messages through the movement's website: www.thankyoumovement.com.

Visitors to ThankYouMovement.com can thank a veteran by writing a personal Thank You message to be posted in real time on the website. This year, the community can tell the story of a Veteran, active service member or military family in need by describing their situation, including their service and what household item might make their everyday live a little easier or more comfortable. Applebee's will say thanks by fulfilling some of those needs.
