DOHA, Qatar, Nov. 9, 2014 /PRNewswire/ -- In the largest international consumer research project in its history, Applebee's® polled over 2000 diners about their favorite foods, and throughout the Middle East, the response was very clear: guests love their burgers. And in addition to Applebee's 30 year heritage of being a perfect destination for casual dining; it has also been creating great burgers, serving them to delighted guests here in the region since 2000.

And beginning in November, in addition to its regular menu of guest favorites including steaks, salads, appetizers and more, the 6 Applebee's restaurants in Qatar will introduce an innovatively delicious take on the classic burger, aptly named the "All-In Burger." This new burger line features Applebee's traditional burger with a twist: Instead of simply piling toppings on the burger, the ingredients are individually sautéed and "seared" into the burger meat, infusing their flavors throughout the burger.

The experience will be new from top to bottom, as the "All-In Burgers" are all served on a toasted sweet brioche bun, crafted specifically for the new burgers, which provides a rich and savory complement to the specially selected ingredients resting inside.

The three varieties of "All-In Burgers" are:

- Hawaiian All-In Burger: Fresh pineapple is seared into our burger then topped with turkey ham and more pineapple in a toasted brioche bun coated with sweet and spicy sauce.
- "All-In" Texas Burger: Jalapenos and green peppers are seared into our burger then topped with more fried jalapenos and onions and our creamy queso. All of this is served between our toasted brioche bun lathered with chipotle mayonnaise and bacon bits.
- "All-In" Smoky Cheese Burger: Beef bacon and mushrooms are seared into our burger and then topped with a smoked cheese, sautéed red peppers, red onions and two more slices of bacon. Served on a toasted brioche bun with chipotle mayonnaise.

The "All-In" Smoky Cheese Burger was developed for and is now exclusively available for Applebee's guests in the Middle East.

"At Applebee's, we built our reputation on making great, craveable, delicious burgers, but we're always looking to surprise and delight our guests," said Michael Futris, International Chef,

Applebee's. "Our new innovative 'All-In' Burgers take the delicious toppings guests love and incorporate them right into the beef patty, so that every juicy bite is filled with flavor. And we're delighted to introduce an "All-in" Smoky Cheese Burger that our guests in the Middle East will love—and be the first to enjoy!"

"All-In" burgers are available for a limited time only in all Applebee's across Qatar, all operated by the country's franchisee, Food Vest, a division of Al Jassim Group.
